BALL

Designer: Benny Frandsen (1972)

Metal pendant with handle ø19 and ø25 cm.

The first Ball lamp arrived on the scene back in 1969.

With its simple geometry, intuitive functionality and precise light control, the Ball quickly became popular throughout Denmark and, later, in numerous other countries.

Benny Frandsen has made a name for himself as one of Denmark's great lamp designers, and the Ball lamp has earned its place as a modern classic that is constantly being refreshed.

2014 saw the relaunch of the Ball with handle pendant. It was originally designed by Benny Frandsen in 1972.

The pendant comes with a black fabric cord and a handle that makes it easy to adjust the direction of the light simply by tilting the domed shade. Hang it straight from the ceiling, alone or several in a row. The light is perfect for working or reading.
