ABOUT NORR11

Welcome to NORR11

NORR11 is a Danish design company driven by a vision to bring new perspectives to modern interiors.

We believe in creating pieces with personality, providing character and comfort to any space. Crafted with honest and natural materials our designs are built-to-last.

COLLECTION 2021

OUR COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

We believe that the most sustainable product is a product that can withstand the test of time, aesthetically and functionally. We work with responsibly sourced, honest materials and strive for a zero waste policy in our production.

LOCAL PRODUCTION AND LOGISTICS

Over 90% of the NORR11 collection is manufactured with European suppliers that strictly adhere to EU environmental standards and industry certifications.

We work with highly experienced local manufacturers and suppliers throughout the supply chain to ensure our products are of the highest quality, meeting and exceeding environmental standards.

We are committed to reducing unnecessary freight between production facilities and warehouses and where possible we will deliver direct from our manufacturers to the customer thereby reducing our product's carbon footprint.

Our warehouse is strategically located on the outskirts of Berlin, near our production and logistics partners and close to our key European markets.

DESIGNED FOR LIFE

Our mission is to create the classics of tomorrow. We place equal emphasis on aesthetics and functionality to ensure our products can be passed from one generation to the next.

While designed to bring personality and character to any interior space our key products are all tested for extreme contract usage. We pride ourselves on having one of the lowest claim rates in the industry, less than 1%. We strive for continuous improvement and our goal is that a used NORR11 product will become even more valuable than a new piece of furniture.

MATERIALS

Natural materials such as wood, leather, bamboo, rattan, metal and marble form the body of our collection. All our wood is FSC certified and sourced within the EU.

To minimise waste, we reuse shapes, moulds and reappropriate by-products of the production line when possible. For example, offcuts from some of our lounge chairs are used to form the armrests for dining chairs and leftover leathers are used for bar stool upholstery. All leftover wood that can't be used for new production is used to heat the factories.

We only work with high quality, durable fabrics and leathers that can withstand heavy usage. The leather hides we use are natural – a byproduct of another industry. These hides are produced in strict compliance with international standards set forth for animal welfare and hygiene. 90% of the leathers we sell are European and carry the Nordic Swan Eco label.

REPLACEABLE UPHOLSTERY

Crafting design to last

SUSTAINABLE DESIGN

A good and sustainable design should last for the years to come. At NORR11, we place equal emphasis on aesthetics and functionality to ensure our products can be passed from one generation to the next.

After many years of usage, or heavy usage in contract settings, upholstered furniture often happens to need a refresh. In order to minimise freight, waste, time and give a design a new life, we have developed a special feature for our upholstered dining chairs which allows the user to replace the upholstery with new upholstery pads.

The seat-pads are unmounted with 4 screws and the back-pads can simply slide off, a simple and easy process.

MADE-TO-ORDER

Replacement upholsteries are made-to-order and can be ordered directly through NORR11. This feature also allows the user to change the style and get a new updated colour, fabric or leather making the design sustainable and timeless.

SAMURAI

Scandinavian design meets Japanese aesthetics

Whilst studying hunting chairs of the mid-20th century, designers Kristian Sofus Hansen & Tommy Hyldahl have created a modern interpretation of the low-slung hunting chair type, with construction inspired by Japanese joint making combined with the Danish stick chairs of the 1950's. Samurai is a highly considered piece of chair making based on stick chair construction popular in the 1950's, which marry different turned oak sections that support the seating comfort and tectonic geometry.

The chair is completed beautifully with a highly crafted round oak section meeting the back in an elegant form which completes the iconic Samurai silhouette. Samurai is offered with saddle leather, which folds around the chair like armour and carries the body with ease. The seat is mounted with brass rivets in order to achieve maximum strength, whilst the back is mounted with adjustable leather straps and brass buckles.

Sleek and unusual

Oku is an interpretation of the Japanese word for oak 'Ōku'. Oku refers to the essence of the design – oak. Through experiments with the balance between lightness and heaviness, making it paper thin when seen from one angle and solid from others, the design emphasizes the natural material. The Oku table top is produced in oak veneer with round edges, adding a refined detail to the large surface. The legs of turned oak timber sections are positioned sporadically to create the illusion of a floating table top, while also adding a sculptural detail to the table. Oku comes in both rectangular and circular shapes, with several size options making it suitable for private homes as well as office settings.

FRAMES

Award winning design

Frames is a dynamic pendant which can transform from a 2-dimensional appearance to a 3-dimensional object. We live in a time where more lightning has become digitally adjustable. Frames is a manually counter reaction to the digital world. With the manual rotation you can create different light settings and change the expression of the design. In other words Frames creates a dialogue between you, the design and its natural material. Unfolded Frames creates an intimate and mute light setting while the light becomes sharp when flat packed. In the daylight the pendant appears as an aesthetic sculpture, which gives a beautiful addition to your home.
